FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Pet Peeves Announces its 2005 Critter Calendar!

LONG ISLAND - Pet Peeves, Inc., the voice of Long Island pets, is pleased to announce that its 2005 Critter Calendar is now available for sale. This marks the second annual calendar produced by Pet Peeves, a grass-roots, non-profit organization, who emphasizes compassion in the handling of all creatures.

"I am delighted to announce the arrival of Pet Peeves' 2005 Critter Calendar," announced Pet Peeves founder, Janine Dion. "Thanks to the efforts of many talented amateur photographers, numerous entries by generous animal lovers for 'pet of the month', and a very kind and dedicated panel of judges, we have an amazing calendar to offer," she added.

Giving new meaning to "Pet of the Month," the Pet Peeves' 2005 calendar is a beautiful, full-color, glossy 14-month calendar featuring some of the most endearing subjects you'll find anywhere. Each month features one of the winners of their Critter Calendar Photo Contest. The 2005 Critter Calendar's are $15 each, or 2 for $25, and can be ordered online at www.PetPeevesInc.org. Shipping and postage are additional and are outlined on the order form found online.

Pet Peeves, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization formed specifically to help protect Long Island's abused, neglected and unwanted animals. Its board is completely volunteer-driven, allowing nearly all funds raised to directly support the group's mission. Pet Peeves makes a difference through the support of "no kill" shelters and rescue groups, humane education and Pet therapy programs.
