Maya (and best friend)

Maya the kitty somehow found her way through a hole in her pet guardian's home and disappeared for a week. Frantic calls to the shelter for instructions on how to set the humane trap The Animal Lovers League loaned them, netted one very weak kitty who staggered when she walked after finally being caught. Hospitalization took care of most of Maya's physical problems, but the mysterious neurological problem remained. The veterinarian could offer no more help, so ALL took Maya to their shelter and followed the vet's instructions concerning physical therapy and activity to build her muscles. The ending is happy as this dear little kitty got stronger and more steady over time. A prospective adopter melted at hearing about what this young little feline had been through, and adopted her and a feral adult male cat that had been socialized in our behavior modification program. Today, they are the best of friends.

Dear Editor:

We hope that you will consider using our camera-ready vignettes when you have space available. With your help, and the help of your readers, we can make a difference for these deserving animals. Periodically, we will issue a new story about one of the numerous animals helped through a grant by Pet Peeves, Inc., "the voice for Long Island pets," to a local rescue group or no-kill shelter. Pet Peeves is the umbrella organization that raises funds so that those volunteers who are out there rescuing, spaying, and caring for these animals, can continue their efforts.

Pet Peeves, Inc. is a 501(c) 3 organization, completely driven by volunteers. Donations are tax deductible to the highest extent of the law.

Thank you in advance for your kind support!
